

Diorama

Create a diorama that (depending on the topic):

- Summarizes your research

Definition: A scene constructed in three dimensions

Words from the Trade:

- Detail
- Layout
- Miniature
- Display
- Scene
- Terrain
- Scale
- Focus
- Shadows

Trade Secrets:

- Put the pieces together first, before you glue.
- Use scraps of fabric to add color and interest.
- Build your own trees by finding twigs and branches.
- Draw the background scenery.
- Choose one area as a focus of attention.
- Paint the small pieces before arranging them in the diorama.
- Use the right kind of glue - check with your teacher!

Project "Look-4s"

An excellent project has all of these elements:

- Title reflects your research or message
- Evidence of planning in placement of elements
- Background is interesting and appropriate to research
- Finished diorama is understandable to audience

	<h1>Diorama</h1>
Performance Element	Ahh 	On Your Way 	Just Gettin' Goin'
Title	Is an outstanding reflection of the story, event, theme, or message	Adequately reflects the story, event, theme, or message	Does not satisfactorily reflect the story, event, theme, or message
Materials	Objects are arranged in a planned manner; each object has a meaning that supports the theme or subject	Objects are arranged in a partly planned manner; some objects have a meaning that supports the theme or subject, while others do not	Objects are arranged in no planned manner; objects have little meaning that supports the theme or subject
Background	Neat, natural to the event or time period, and in scale	A little cluttered or messy, some designs are not natural to the event or time period, and not entirely in scale	Very messy and cluttered, not in keeping with the event or time period, and not in scale
Audience	Audience can clearly understand the purpose and content	Most audience members can understand the purpose of the content	The purpose and content are unclear to the audience
