

Today is going to be a great day!

It is already Wednesday, so I only have three more days of school until the weekend.

I noticed that Sean is not in school today, and that is ok.

I was surprised when I noticed he was absent, because it was unexpected, but today is going to be a great day.

I have lots of other friends in my classes that I can talk to.

I can even sit with them during lunch and play with them at recess.

Even though I was sad, at first, that my best friend was not here, now I am excited, because it will give me more time with my other friends.

I remember talking to my teachers about talking to more of my friends, and this is the perfect day to start!

I am very excited for school today, and to finally start talking to my other friends. Today is going to be a great day for me!