Our Learning This Week:

IMPORTANT UPCOMING DATES:

Reading: This week, we continued focusing on non-fiction text features. We also took our outcome assessments this week, which will be returned next week. During reader's workshop, we have been working on breaking apart words and scooping up phrases with our eyes instead of reading word-by-word. We also talked about vowel teams and locating them in their books. In guided reading, groups started their books! ☺

Writing: Students have been working very hard on finishing their how-to-books! They also took home most of what they have been working on in writing so far to show you their hard work!

Math: We are beginning a new module, module 2. Module 2 is all about finding ways to make 10. Students have been learning how to add three numbers, and students had to circle the 2 numbers that made 10 to make it faster and easier to add. They also have been learning how to break apart numbers to find 10 using number bonds and pictures.
