

Reading

We are learning and practicing the expectations for Reader's Workshop. Students are busy independently reading, reading with a partner, and listening to reading. We are building reading stamina, practicing reading words, pictures, and retelling! We are also exploring some "book basics" such as the role of an author/illustrator, cover and title of a book, and order of how to read a book. We love to read!

Writing

Writer's Workshop consists of a whole group mini lesson, time for the students to write independently, and then time for the students to share their stories. This month, students will be learning that they are authors and illustrators. We are all writers who have stories to tell. Pictures can tell a powerful story. The students will be learning how to draw detailed pictures that tell who, what, and where. They will also be learning how to label pictures with words.

Science

We will be observing and graphing the weather daily to look for weather patterns and changes.
